I will always be thankful to Lord for the opportunity of spending 4 academic years in Karunya University, it's been one good and memorable journey. My time at Karunya and at School of Biotechnology, taught me to come out of my comfort zone and face the corporate world. To be an Under Graduate and getting hired by an MNC is a great blessing, all credits to KITS and the faculties of School of Biotechnology.

The efforts put by my faculties to make each student understand the depth and technical aspect of Biotechnology has really helped me to get to the current position.

Pfizer is a Global Pharmaceutical company and currently I am into Global Regulatory Affairs. It's been 6 months since I started my career and all I can do is Thank the School of Biotechnology for shaping me into what I am today.
